Loving God, like so many before us, we have been called to this time and place to worship you. We join the long line of faithful people who offer our praise and our lives to you. Meet us in this time of worship and fill us with your Spirit. Amen.

Call to Confession

Prayer of Confession

Holy God, our past is glorious. Our story is one of success and growth and transformation. We celebrate that. We can't live there, in the past, O God. We repent for not paying attention to the new things you are doing in our midst. We admit we would rather have our church be a museum honoring our past than a place where we risk the new and the unknown. Help us lay aside our fears, our need to cling to past success, our reluctance to move into your unknown but exciting future. Remind us that in each new day you are present, providing what we need for that day, for that season. Make us strong and courageous for the tasks you have set before us. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

Please pray in silence

Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

Greeting from former ministers

As we celebrate 150 years of ministry, we thought it would be appropriate to bring back some of our past writings. These words are from former ministers, written in 1946 at the 75th anniversary of First Methodist Church, as it was known then. We hope you enjoy these words from 75 years ago.

From Dr. Merle N. Smith of Pasadena

There are few relationships on Earth more significant and rewarding than that of a pastor and the people of his church.

My own experience as a pastor for seven years of our First Church, Colorado Springs, affords some of the happiest and most grateful memories of my life.

The beauty of Colorado Springs and its matchless mountains environs, the friendliness of its people, the unbroken unity of the church and the wholehearted devotion of its members to the cause of Christ in the world, their amazing, never failing kindness to Mrs. Smith and myself. And our daughters Isobel in Esther-Merle - these are pictures on the walls of memory which outlasts the intervening years.

The continued growth and prosperity of the church in buildings and in program activities especially for the care of its children and youth, is a source of joy and gratitude to us all. The influence of this beloved church has gone out through all the earth and the words to the end of the world. How many of its devoted leaders and helpers have passed into the Unseen Holy!

I send my affectionate greetings to all the members of the church, young and old. God speed this dear church forward on another seventy-five years of triumphant achievement.

From Dr. George W. McDonald of Long Beach

It is with sincere appreciation we look back on the gracious years of fellowship with you in service, at the foot of the Rockies, in the “city of sunshine”, where “Vessey always sings” and Fritz plays. The lines have indeed fallen unto us in pleasant places. All our churches have been exceedingly kind. The years we spent and First Church were indeed gracious years. The gratitude and love you bestowed upon us during our short sojourn there have made the years between more enjoyable and fruitful.

As we recall, the many and happy comradeships with those of you who chance to be alive up on the surface of the earth now, memory brings close and warm about us other dear ones who we have “loved long since and lost a while.” The dear dead who served with us and who have fallen on sleep are included in her grateful appreciation.

Whenever the needs of your present and future tasks may be, as you strive towards greater things in consciously sufficient wisdom and strength be given you for them all, and may the Master’s spirit of duty and service ennoble all your days and ways.

From Dr. Fred Cox of Denver, associated with Dr .McDonald

We feel deeply thankful that we are in the company of highly favored people who will celebrate the 75th anniversary of First Church, because we have “belonged” to it. What a rich fellowship it has been, and what generous service it has given us! Because of their power to inspire and bless, the memories of past years deserve to be kept vividly alive, while the high assurance of an increasing ministry, is enough to command the continuing devotion of the people of that lovely city among whom First Church shines.
